

Ms Nelson,

The current situation at the Border is beyond a breaking point. The same problems we were experiencing in 2014 are happening all over again during this current surge.

President Trump and the DHS Secretary have been trying to bring solutions to the table but they have been met with fierce opposition from those that dislike them. At this point I am at a loss of words with what's happening to our country.

The situation at the border is out of control, as we have lost the ability to KNOW WHO or WHAT is coming across the border!

The humanitarian and border security crisis is having a major/negative impact on Border Patrol Operations.

Border Patrol agents are being assigned to care, transport and process migrants instead of securing the border. That means that cartels have a free pass to smuggle dangerous drugs into the interior of the United States, as well as smuggle individuals into the United States that are gang members, criminals and a threat to public safety.

Border Patrol agents are being exposed to dangerous diseases that are carried by the people we come in contact with and quite frankly this has become a Public Health Crisis. Border Patrol agents are patrolling the border with less and less back up as many agents are being reassigned to processing duties.

In regards to the creation of the TEDS policy, as agents we did not receive formal training on this policy. The agency simply made us sign a document that stated that we acknowledged receiving the TEDS policy, but in reality that never happened.

Thank you for accepting my comments in regards to my whistleblower disclosure from 2014

Stay Safe,
