Subject: OSC proposed rulemaking covering federal contractor employees

Hi—

I have a question or two on the OSC's proposed rulemaking released today in the Federal Register allowing contractor employees working in agencies covered by the NDAA to file whistleblower disclosures and retaliation complaints with the OSC.

I assume that this would cover contractor employees in the Energy Department's nuclear weapons complex—can you confirm?

Also, I presume the OSC rulemaking would give such contractor employees a new avenue to pursue whistleblower disclosures and retaliation complaints, which now generally go to the Labor Department or the courts.

If you could give me a call at 202-481-3748, that would be helpful.
